This memorial honors the service of veterans from the Middleton area. The design utilizes a meandering path to represent a historical timeline on which patches of red paving symbolize major conflicts in U.S. history. Erected markers represent each soldier killed in action adjacent to the respective conflict. The path winds through the Sentry Grove, which is composed of columnar maple trees that turn a burning red in the fall, symbolic of soldiers standing tall in the battlefield. An elevated Donor Circle honors those who contribute to the realization of the project and a Service Ring displaying the various military branches is dedicated to medal recipients.
